

Guess My Age.net - How old do you really look?

With a wide array of television shows such as '10 years younger', hundreds of age reducing, wrinkle removing creams mixed in with a few more drastic measures being widely sort after, you have to ask yourself, are they necessary or just pure vanity? How old do I actually look?

The Internet's number 1 age guessing website has recently taken American by storm. The premise is simple, you are shown a person's photo and you have to guess how old they are.

It may sound simple and a little silly, but it really should carry a health warning – Age Guessing is Addictive!

For the braver amongst us it is even possible to upload your photo and let internet users give us an honest opinion of how old (or young) we look.

Guess My Age.net was set up in 2005 by young internet entrepreneur Thomas Etherington, aged just 16 and armed with a small, £30 investment.

Guess My Age.net is easy to use and free to upload a photo onto. It is available online at: <http://www.guessmyage.net>

Press Attention:

Guess My Age primarily grown through word of mouth and online bloggers. Recently Guess My Age has been quite a media sensation and grown massively in popularity.

Guess My Age was one of the top 10 fastest rising search terms in the USA and described as "Red Hot"

"Like Channel 4's Ten Years Younger but far more addictive, this site is dangerous – not least because the last thing you want to stumble upon is a picture of that '28-year-old' bloke that you found yourself pashing with a few weeks ago who turns out to actually be practically illegal. Ah, technology!"
